

Beast, Pt. 2

I was found dead, Void of life and all senses
Existence laid flat, for no one to see
I saw in the distance, something so beautiful
It caught my attention, calling me close

Something so different, then what took my life before Something so matchless so special so wonderful
I can't put my finger on it

It brings back memories
Of the burning sun from home
Light shines
On me

My weak legs began to run
Why can I hardly move
How did the darkness creep back in
Is this the ocean under my limbs

Now reality feels like a nightmare
Look over my shoulder
she catches me with her glare Reminding me of, what I once loved and her violent beauty

don't be fooled, it's her snare wicked despair, look up I'll be in your lungs
I'll supply the breath to bring you home
To your first love, how I long to be with you

Air, wonderful air
Life giving breath, no longer scared
Shattered the glass, glass of the queen
Ends her reign, ends her reign over me

Breath out, you'll be in my lungs
You'll supply the breath to bring my home
To my first love
How I long to be with you